

Privacy Policy

This Privacy Policy Refers to:

- The Privacy Policy of the use of the website dubbed “www.andysmowers.com”.
- The Privacy Policy for a purchase made on the website dubbed “www.andysmowers.com”.
- “the form” refers to the form page of the website dubbed “www.andysmowers.com”.
- “our services” refers to the service we provide to people which is mowing and trimming.
- “Your data” or “data” refers to data submitted through the form
- “financial data” refers to data submitted to a third party responsible for payment service such as paypal, venmo, etc.

The data you submit on this website is stored in a cloud sheet that is accessible to the owner of this site and google. The authority of the security of said data is given to google. The owner of this site has primary authority over this data submitted through the form. We do not throw data around. We do not publish your data. You maintain certain rights to privacy including that we do not publish your data. We maintain the right to spam you through your contact information until you decide to opt out. You may opt out of spam by returning a message STOP. We have ownership over your data submitted to us through the form. By submitting a form you give us consent to do what we wish with your data provided through the form and understand that we now own said data.

The limits we have placed on data for privacy purposes in this paragraph are as follows:

1. We do not publish data submitted through the form
2. We Have authority and thus are in control of security

We have the right to:

1. Use your data as we wish (includes selling Said data submitted through the form to anyone interested in buying it and also gives the buyer of data submitted through the form the same rights that we have to your data which is submitted to us through the form)
2. Spam you through the information given in “the form” until you opt out
3. Sell any data submitted through the form with the same permission and authority that we have over data submitted through the form.

Payment is:

1. Done in person or through email and isn't ever done over the site.
2. Payment information is given to third party payment services such as Paypal, Venmo, etc. and thus we are not responsible for your financial data nor do we keep said data.

